UMBRELLAS

NOTHING better to lay up for a rainy day than one of our choice Umbrellas. There's an individuality about our Umbrellas from the fact that we purchase tops in gross lots from manufacturers who make tops only: our handles, too, are purchased in this way—no two handles alike. We assemble them in our own factory, so that an umbrella purchased here is unique—distinctly different from others. Every frame we use is the famous Fox "Paragon"; materials also the highest grade.

Did you ever think that an Umbrella is the very thing for an Autumn Birthday or Wedding Gift? You would be pleasantly surprised at our price-reasonableness.

The King of Wines

A man, who forgot he was dumb,

When they said "You're a sham,"
He replied, "P'raps I am,
But not such a good Cham as "Mumm."

Connoisseurs drink MUMM'S selected Brut 1898 vintage because it is the only GENUINE BRUT WINE containing the natural alcohol of the grapes, from which it is produced; the alcohol is not ADDED as in other so-called, Brut Wine. The most critical palates and most sensitive digestions can use this wine without any fear of after results.

VICTIMS NUMBER SIX HUNDRED

Latest Estimate of Fatalities Caused by Earthquakes in Italy

SUFFERING FROM EXPOSURE

Contributions for Relief From the King, the Government and the Pope

Rome, Oct. 25.—Little additional news was received this morning from Calabria, which was visited by shocks on the 18th.

The weather continues in the south, and it is feared that many persons are likely to lose their lives as the result of exposure. Peril of repetition of the earthquake is preventing them from returning to the villages. Many of the homeless people have erected tents or are living under temporary coverings. A few fresh shocks were experienced yesterday, but no further damage has been reported.

The Pope has sent supplies of money to the clergy for the relief of their suffering parishioners, and has ordered that the churches be kept open day and night for the use of the homeless.

The government also has forwarded $20,000 to the authorities for use in relief work, and has taken every other step possible to help the sufferers.

King Victor Emmanuel has donated $20,000 from his private purse, which added to the amount given by Pope Pius and the government brings the total of the contributions for relief work to $50,000.

The number of fatalities due to the earthquake is now estimated at 600.

ANGLICAN CHURCH MISSIONS

Meeting of Board in Toronto—Increase of Receipts

Toronto, Oct. 25.—The semi-annual general meeting of the board of missions of the Anglican church is being held here, and is attended by archbishops, bishops and others from all parts of the Dominion. The annual report of Rev. Dr. Tucker, general secretary, told of his work and travels, covering 8,600 miles in 188 days. Receipts are reported as showing $1,000 increase for the year.

At this morning's session of the board Hon. S. H. Blake's voluminous and conclusive report on Indian work and Indian schools was received, but not adopted by the board, pending further testing of statistics. The report of the special committee for adjustment of assessments was received. Toronto received the largest share, being assessed for $25,000, which is an increase on the amount given last year. The call upon the people for grants for Northwest and foreign work amounted to $120,000.

FINE OF $25,000.

Michigan Central Must Pay for Dynamite Explosion.

Toronto, Oct. 25.—Justice Riddell this morning imposed a fine of $25,000 on the Michigan Central railway for the disastrous explosion of dynamite in a car at Essex, by which three persons were killed and many injured and much property damaged. In a lengthy judgment Justice Riddell said it was the duty of railways to take all care of lives and property, no matter what it cost. "We call such occurrences accidents; crimes are the better word," he said. "The best way to prevent similar accidents is to make it more costly to violate the law than to observe it." He called attention to the necessity of appointing some special officers to watch for and punish such offenses.

Victim of Lamp Explosion.

London, Ont., Oct. 25.—Mrs. John Adam, wife of a well-to-do farmer at Dorchester, was burned by a lamp explosion last night.

KING ALFONSO'S HEALTH

Spanish Ruler Said to Be Threatened by Tuberculosis

Madrid, Oct. 25.—The alarming reports circulated earlier in the month regarding the health of King Alfonso would appear to be confirmed. It is understood that His Majesty, who will travel under the strictest incognito as Duke of Toledo during his coming visit to London, will submit to the examination of a specialist on tuberculosis, from which disease his father died. The King's open air life has thus far kept the hereditary disposition in abeyance, and an operation was performed on him recently in the hope of checking the growing symptoms of consumption.

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 25.—The Commercial Telegraphers' Union of America adopted resolutions today declaring that the telegraph companies have been accepting messages which have been sent by mail to their destinations, and there copied for delivery to the persons to whom addressed. Local unions are urged to appeal to their senators and congressmen to support a movement to secure investigation by congress.

The convention adjourned tonight. W. W. Beattie, of Washington, D. C., was elected president.

Do Forest Wireless in Trouble.

Toronto, Oct. 25.—The bailiff is in possession of the Toronto office of the Forest Wireless Telegraph Co., which operated from premises in the Home Life building on Victoria street.

The seizure is the result of failure of the company to pay its small debt of rent. Negotiations were futile, and the law was invoked. The headquarters of the company are at Montreal, where negotiations were carried on with President Humphreys, who stated that he had advanced the company a large amount of money, but could not see his way clear to make any further advance. Settlement was proposed on an extension note for a year, which was not considered.

Decision for the Printers.

Ottawa, Oct. 25.—Word has been received here of the ruling of Commissioner Sargent, of Washington, in the case of a Canadian printer who was stopped at Port Arthur, Mich., while on his way to the printers' home at Colorado Springs, Colo. Commissioner Sargent holds that a Canadian printer has a perfect right to go to the home, so long as he is not in a dying condition, as he is a charge only on the printers themselves. The officer, he says, was overzealous in his action.

MAKES ADDITION TO CAR SHOPS

The B. C. Electric Company to Erect New Building on Discovery Street

The British Columbia Electric company is about to make extensive additions to its Discovery street car shops which have been found to be inadequate to meet the growing demands put upon them. The company has purchased a lot next to the present shops and yesterday a building permit was issued by the building inspector for a new building to be erected alongside the present shops. The cost of the property and the building will be in the neighborhood of $20,000.

In addition to the new building there will be extensive alterations and improvements made to the old shops. In the new addition will be placed part of the stores and the car painting department while complete and independent fire extinguishing plant will be installed and the whole shops protected by a brick wall on the side next to the saw mills thus adding greatly to the fire protection.

A. T. Coward, local manager of the company, stated that the growth of the city and the consequent increase in the company's business has necessitated this improvement in the shops.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

The New Grand

The price of ten cents at which Mr. Jamieson has placed the admission for children to the matinees this afternoon, makes possible a rare treat for the little ones which is within the reach of all parents in the city, and no child should be deprived of the pleasure of seeing the wonderful beautiful and instructive act given by Rosa Maynon and her birds. All the other acts are good as well, and the performance is one which will always be remembered and talked over with delight. There will be two performances this afternoon so that those who are crowded out for the first can see the second. The first will begin promptly at 2:30, the doors being opened at 2 o'clock, and the second will begin at 3:45.

Pantages Theatre

At the regular matinee which takes place this afternoon at 3 o'clock, the Johnson street theatre offers a very nice programme of clever acts, some of which are especially suitable for entertaining the children, particularly the musical sketch as presented by the Cox family entitled "The Professor and His Pupils." Mr. Cox portraying the character of the itinerant professor and his three daughters, son as the pupils, introducing songs and dances, trios, quartets and dialogues, which have been causing large audiences throughout the week. The children will also find plenty of fun in the ventriloquist act of Mr. Dervin who introduces the young headed boy and old man Jones in funny sayings and songs. The Gagnoux French jugglers and the Spray sisters with the moving pictures, showing automobile racing, make an entertaining programme for old and young for the small admission of ten cents.

Olga Nethersole Tuesday Night

To Victoria theatre-goers who admire the highest form of dramatic art, the announcement that Olga Nethersole, the noted English actress, will again visit this city will doubtless be read with pleasure. Since her appearance here last January Miss Nethersole played a two weeks' engagement at the theatre Sarah Bernhardt in Paris, achieving the most signal success that perhaps was ever gained by a foreign born actress in the French capital. She will be supported here by her own London company, including Mr. Frank Mills, which is identically the same organization of players that appeared with her in Paris.

The play which Miss Nethersole has chosen for presentation at the Victoria theatre is Arthur W. Pinero's play of modern society, "The Second Mrs. Tanqueray." Miss Nethersole is a wonderfully versatile woman, and without a doubt the greatest English speaking emotional actress now on the stage, and with the possible exception of Madame Bernhardt, the greatest in the world. Her splendid talents never show to better advantage than in her portrayal of the mental sufferings of Paula, the second Mrs. Tanqueray, who, in spite of her desire to lead a good life and win the affections of her husband's grown daughter, could not wipe out the stain of the past and was finally driven to take her own life as the only atonement.

Love Interest in "Raffles".

"Raffles, the Amateur Cracksman," the interesting play which will serve to introduce S. Miller Kent to his friends at the Victoria theatre Monday evening, is not merely a study in criminology. Nor are the four acts after the disappearance of Lady Merton's $100,000 diamond necklace taken up entirely with the battles of craft and cunning between the gentleman-burglar and Capt. Bedford, the detective. Along with the exciting psychological position of a man's responsibility for lack of it for wrong-doing, is a love story of unusual romance and tenderness. Although Raffles is a thief he has a heart which he loses to Gwendolyn Conron. Raffles has a struggle with himself on this account which renders the character dramatic to a point of pathos, and of irresistible fascination for the spectator. A born criminal, with an inherited cerebral affliction, yet with the longings and hopes born of innate refinement and gentility, he sees in the love of a good woman his best chance of redemption. Gwendolyn loves Raffles even before she is sure he loves her. It is an intensely powerful scene when their mutual love is confessed and Raffles reveals to the amazed girl his real identity. Handsome, graceful and subtle, Kent, with his polished art, splendid figure and features, is an ideal Raffles. The erotic element in the play is complicated by the facts that Raffles' chum, "Bunny," also loves Gwendolyn, and the burglar feeling his own unworthiness, at first pleads "Bunny's" cause with the girl. But, as in the case of Miles Standish and Pocahontas, the Puritan maiden the proxy is finally induced to speak for him.

Between Fort George, where they took to the canoes and Quesnel, the party picked up the survivors of the Grand Trunk Pacific party of surveyors which met with the disastrous upset in the Griscombe Rapids. Three of the party were drowned but Mr. Cromwell brought the three survivors, A. J. Cape, R. Shefford and Jack Miller through to Quesnel.

Great activity prevails throughout the Nechako valley and around Barkerville. Settlers are pouring in by the hundreds and pre-empting lands while the woods are full of prospectors and timber cruisers. There is no immediate shortage of food and supplies, though the prices are high.

A curious feature of the situation caused by the accidents to the various steamers plying on the Skeena is the fact that seows laden with provisions and food stuffs are being brought from Stuart lake and the Fort St. James region by way of the Fraser instead of by the former route. Quesnel Forks region is profiting by this and a good deal of traffic which would otherwise have gone by way of Hazelton, is filtering around to the Fraser as a highway.

"I have been most favorable impressed by the entire country," said Mr. Cromwell. "It has a great future before it as soon as the railway is completed. It is rich in timber, in minerals and in lands, fit for agriculture and there are numerous water-power which should ultimately be utilized. The surveyors for the Grand Trunk Pacific are making good headway and all should soon be readiness to rush construction."

While the trip was a hazardous one, Mr. Cromwell met with no accidents en route. He is interested in number of timber and townsite propositions, and he believes that his trip will prove a profitable one from a business point of view. He will leave shortly for his home in Portland, Oregon.

HIS FORTIETH TRIP TO THE DOMINION

British Leather Merchant Finds Great Changes in City of Victoria

His fortieth visit to Canada, and his second to the coast is the record of W. H. Staynes, a wealthy leather merchant of Leicester, Eng., who with his wife is registered at the King Edward hotel.

The other trips were largely of a business nature, and more or less hurried, but Mr. Staynes knows Canada as few other Englishmen do, for he has deserted the beaten paths, and while the Laurentians and the East generally are more familiar to him than the Rockies and the West, he has a comprehensive knowledge of the Dominion.

"I am delighted with Victoria and the progress which has been made in the eight years since I was last here. It is almost unbelievable. The buildings are finer, the streets are in better condition, and there is an air of life and prosperity that were lacking in those days. Your population has greatly increased, but I can readily believe that with your climate and scenery it is bound to forge ahead even more rapidly than ever before."

Mr. Staynes is like most Britons who know the colonies, an ardent imperialist and tariff reformer. He has always tried to buy as much of his raw material as possible in the Dominion, and he would like to see a preference afforded Dominion products by the old land. He has done what lay in his power to increase the knowledge of the Dominion in the old country, and he makes a practise of photographing scenes along the route, which he mounts on lantern slides illustrating such lectures as he can find time to give in his native city and the neighbourhood.

From here he goes to Seattle and San Francisco, returning home by way of New York.

COMES OVERLAND FROM PRAIRIES

Fred T. Cromwell in Victoria After Traveling by Horseback From Edmonton

Browned by wind, sun and exposure to all kinds of weather during the four months he has spent in saddle and canoe on the long trail that lies between Edmonton and Vancouver, Fred T. Cromwell, a capitalist, of Portland, Ore., arrived in the city yesterday from Vancouver.

July 18 with his consulting engineer and a couple of pack horses, he left Edmonton. Wednesday he arrived in Vancouver. Six hundred miles on horseback and on foot, four hundred miles by canoe with frequent portages have trained Mr. Cromwell to the minute. Without an ounce of superfluous flesh upon him he looks the picture of health and energy, but he doesn't deny that the trip was a hard one. There were any number of hardships to be encountered and while he believes that from a business point of view his trip will prove a success it is one that he does not care to repeat, that is, immediately.

Following the trail of the Grand Trunk Pacific the little party went out to the mountains by the old Jasper Pass trail meeting numerous parties of prospectors. Many of these were in sore straits for lack of food, supplies being scarce. The country between Edmonton and the mountains carries a good deal of timber that will be available for pulp wood, spruce being plentiful. It is not heavily timbered however, large areas of spruce and jack pine having been burned off during recent surveys.

The country is very rich in bituminous coal and other minerals, while marsh beds are frequent along the route.

The Yellowstone Pass is ample enough to permit the passage of any number of railway lines and hence there should be little trouble arranging a route for the C.N.R. through from the prairies to the Pacific province.

Between Fort George, where they took to the canoes and Quesnel, the party picked up the survivors of the Grand Trunk Pacific party of surveyors which met with the disastrous upset in the Griscombe Rapids. Three of the party were drowned but Mr. Cromwell brought the three survivors, A. J. Cape, R. Shefford and Jack Miller through to Quesnel.

CANADA, THE NATION

or sacrificed his business interests, without apparently understanding the true nature of his situation, yet when the mother country has been hard pressed by her enemies he has hurried in to her succor, with "single heart and single sword." In due course, the elder son offered the mother country a substantial preference. In order that we might enter his markets upon better terms than our rivals. The other sons are all following suit with admiration and sympathy for Canada's lead; and Britain, the head of the house, accepts their preference, and profits by it, here and there a grumbling that the gift is not greater but insisting all the time that no reciprocation is possible, since that would involve a departure from the policy which gave the house prosperity in by-gone days, when Britain was the world's workshop. The Sons find Britain's reasoning hard to follow, in the light of their own experience, and of the approved modern methods under which they have built up their own prosperity and independence. Thus we arrive at the present situation, in which every one of the Sons has adopted the business principles of the rest of the world, and laid aside the hazardous, happy-go-lucky system under which the Mother-land still wastefully toils, with eyes tightly closed, not alone to what is going on outside her shores, but to the sufferings of that pitiful one-third of her population which is said to live always upon the extreme edge of starvation.

The burden of purely domestic legislation for an overcrowded and severely handicapped people, the chaotic situation engendered by our too long continued attempt to combine in the hands of one local Parliament the functions of highly complicated domestic government and world-wide Imperial government; these things, coupled with our weight of ancient prejudice, increasing competition, decreasing command of trade, and dense population, tend to embarrass the young nations of the Empire in their willing offer of confidence, their willing steps toward closer co-operation. The wide, out-visioning vision of the younger peoples, is out of focus with the narrow, intense, inseeing vision of the Mother-country, and the result is apt to be a blurred, indefinite picture for both, when one approaches the other in existing circumstances, bent upon the mutual consideration of a given question. Even as the self-governing overseas nations of the empire must, and are, finely working out their own destinies, each with a loyal helpful regard for the common interest of the Family, so the Mother-land must reach our common goal after its own fashion, with its own burdens in its own time; but—and this is so obviously vital that reminders about it should not be needed—always with at least as scrupulous a measure of that loyal helpful regard for the common interests of the Family, at least as generous a measure of appreciation, and ready, practical sympathy, as is shown by her Sons of the Greater Britain.

Canada Will Unite the Empire

Having regard, then, to all these matters affecting the present position and future development of the greatest Empire the world has yet seen, what deliberate conclusion does a study of Canada bring to one, as to the destiny of that Dominion, whose frontiers embrace one-third of the entire area of this Empire? We have to remember that, in any case, Canada's destiny is that of a great nation. To doubt that is to shut one's eyes to the teaching of history, and to overlook existing facts. But there is always a choice of ways, and for Canada there is one way which leads to greater heights, to prouder achievements, to higher rewards, than can be reached by any other way. Full grown partner's work awaits Canada, and my own deliberate conviction is that Canada will earn her place in history by carrying that work to the happiest kind of ultimate success; to success which, before many years have passed over our heads, will see the Dominion—so far from having a door "slammed" in her face by any judicious and shortsighted British politician—holding open a door by which the Mother-country may enter, and will enter, as it were automatically, to her natural and proper place, at the heart and centre of a truly united, a practically and invincibly incorporated federation of the nations comprising the British Empire. Then, and not till then, as I see it, will the great young nation of Canada have fully realised the magnificent scope of its true destiny as the Elder Son.

Canada, the Elder Son, possesses the confidence, the admiration, and the respect of the other three overseas nations: the Commonwealth of Australia, the Dominion of New Zealand, and that legislatively misused country which should become the United Dominion of British South Africa. Theirs is the familiar and affectionate confidence of brothers of one generation, based durably upon mutual understanding and a common point of view; that sea-girdling, larger British point of view which makes all lands that fly our flag alike home to the Britisher who knows his heritage as it should be known. Geographically, apart from other reasons, the lead is with the Elder Son, here the generous, honorable part of host and first spokesman. The coming of the All-Red Route (regarding the organizing details of which the counsel and interests of those responsible for existing transport facilities should be given the fullest possible weight and consideration), should be made to mean more, far more, for oversea Britain than mere increase in transport facilities. It is open to Canada to see to it that the All-Red Route is no less than an outward and visible sign of an inward and spiritual bond; a step toward the closest and most practical kind of union that the modern world has seen. Sound economics point to it as surely as true patriotism. Treatment of commercial reciprocity, preference—the policy in which Canada has already led the world—business combination for the mutual benefit of the young industries of the four overseas nations; these are the stepping stones by which the great young nation of Canada may march forward at the head of her strong young brothers to a higher station among the peoples of the world than any other path could ever give her. In another way could ship and Nation-hood alike be so finely served.

Travel in and study of Canada makes one humble, and it is with all deference and respect that the writer admits that indication of detail is not at all his part. But Canada, the loyal elder son, should leave nothing to chance in the pursuit of his great destiny. Some of the finest human material for work of development that any country in the world could desire to see added to its working population lies here in the United Kingdom, from lack of work and lack of means with which to reach those upland stretches of the empire upon which work is plentiful and workmen scarce. Some day the mother country will awake to the desirability of making easy the work of imperial migration, of working migration within the empire. Meantime, the elder son, in addition to throwing wide his gates, might even allow his representatives on this side to make selection from among the many willing and fit, and provide them transport to the land where they are wanted. A few large steamers chartered for the spring of the year, and Canada's work of development could be hastened by many willing hands—hands which could soon repay such outlay as obtaining them involved.

A Minister of Imperial Affairs
Again, as Mr. W. Sanford Evans, of Winnipeg, demonstrated so clearly in the postscriptum to his book about the Dominion's part in the South African war, Canada should provide herself with a minister of imperial affairs. Her nationhood demands it in order that her external relations may become an integral part of her people's national interests and affairs. Thus Canada would have a responsible minister, backed by the confidence of the Canadian people and parliament, whose duty it would be, first, to act for Canada and be responsible to Canada in all her imperial relations; and, secondly, to lay foundations and conduct negotiations in the direction of closer commercial federation between the Dominion and the other three overseas nations—her younger brothers. This is, surely, the true path of nationhood, of the grown partner, the elder son. Thus safely may the time be tided over until the overburdened mother country has set her house in order and can fit the complex, many-sided heart of the empire into that central place in the imperial scheme of things which her loyal sons will hold open and waiting for her.

Thus, then, as the writer sees it, is the true role of Canada, the new nation, of Canada, the elder son. Here, then, are the task and destiny which are truly worthy of the greatness of Canada: the elder son, and leader among her strong young brothers, so to bind these together with himself, upon the enduring basis of practical reciprocity, business partnership, that, when the time is ripe, there shall be no hesitancy, no cross purposes, no doubt whatever, about the mother country's part; that the way shall be clear and open before her to her secure place as head and centre of the great federation of our race—the place carved out for her, and gladly given, by Canada, the elder son, acting in comradeship with the other three nations of the empire.

Meantime it is the obvious duty of all thinking men here in the mother country to see to it that Canada and the other young nations are hampered by no checks, no shadows of the complex difficulties which harass crowded Britain; that they receive nothing less than real encouragement and active sympathy from this old land which gave them birth. This can be attained by one way, and by one way only: Understanding, out of which will come naturally recognition, encouragement, sympathy, and that ultimate union of head and hand, as well as heart, which will place the imperial heritage of the children of our race, from Vancouver to Calcutta, from the Orkneys to Port Melbourne, beyond the reach of rivalry, outside the pale of evil chance or envious attack.

Upon Canada, then, one would urge patience, and that wise deliberation in the choice of a path which befits her just pride and her strong nationhood. To the people of the mother country, of the grey mother of nations and peoples, with her great burden of years and cares and conflicting interests, Canada might well quote from the last words of a brilliant young writer whose prophetic insight moved him to voice the warning in these lines:

"Philosophy should always know that indifference is a militant thing. It batters down the walls of cities, and murders the women and children amid flames and the purloining of altar vessels. When it goes away it leaves smoking ruins, where lie citizens bayoneted through the throat. It is not a child's pastime, like mere highway robbery."

RAILWAY MEN ON TRIAL.

Conductor and Brakeman Charged With Causing Fatal Wreck.

Port Arthur, Ont., Oct. 25.—The preliminary hearing into the cause of the accident at Kama, on the C.P.R., on Aug. 13 last, in which Engineer Edward O'Donnell received fatal injuries, was held before Magistrate Dobie this morning. F. McCarthy, conductor, and G. Anderson, brakeman, on a C.P.R. work train, who have been on bail pending an investigation, were charged by Crown Attorney Langworthy of unlawfully omitting to do an act which it is claimed was their duty, to see that a switch on the main line was closed, a neglect which resulted in a collision of a passenger train and the work train, and through which neglect O'Donnell received serious bodily injuries. Supt. Thompson, of White River, was examined as to the length of time of service of both employees, and told to the best of his knowledge how the wreck occurred. Before the evidence was taken the magistrate stated that it was not his intention to give a final decision on the matter. It is likely that McCarthy and Anderson will appear at the next assizes as the charge against them is under the criminal code.

German Balloon Winner

Washington, Oct. 25.—President Wm. Moore, of the International Aeronaut Congress, said in an announcement issued today that Chief Draughtsman Hells of the signal corps of the army, who was designated to make the official measurements of distances covered in the international balloon race from St. Louis, had decided to accept the figures made by the United States geological survey, and they would be official records for the Aero Club of America, governing the award of prizes. These figures give the German balloon Pommern the winner by six miles over its next competitor, the French balloon Isle de France.

The driver of the machine is owned by Attorney Geo. C. Wilson.

Port Arthur Power Scheme

Winnipeg, Oct. 25.—The town of Port Arthur, on the advice of Cecil B. Smith, has decided to develop 30,000 horse power at Dog lake, on the Kaministiquia river, 25 miles distant. Cecil B. Smith will be chief engineer. Already applications are in for 8,000 horse power. The estimated cost is $800,000.

INSPECTED LOCAL REGISTRY OFFICE

Hon. W. J. Bowser to Make a Few Changes But Delays
Were Unavoidable

"The local registry office is doing excellent work, and those who complain of delays know little of the difficulties which confront the officials of that department. The office is catching up with the work which got behind some months ago, and if people will have patience a little longer, matters
will soon be in a first class condition."

The above statement was made by Hon. W. J. Bowser, attorney-general, who yesterday visited the local registry office and looked into matters thoroughly. Some few changes will be made, officials being changed about to equalise the work somewhat more than has been done. Additional fittings, files, etc., will be installed to perfect the system and to expedite the work of the clerks in the office.

The delays are largely due to the additional work which is entailed upon the registrar and his clerks through the new act, which is only a year old,
and under which the government guarantees all titles. This means a thorough search of all records, many of which go back to Hudson's Bay Company days. Once the title is made indefeasible, any future transfers of that piece of property will be a very simple matter."

The conditions imposed by the new act and the unparalleled amount of business has resulted in the piling up of work at the local office. Additional clerks were added, but in certain matters one official must assume the responsibility, and hence his office cannot be duplicated.

The attorney-general is of the opinion that the work of passing upon titles and rendering them indefeasible is proceeding as fast as could be expected. Victoria occupies a peculiar position in that the great volume of the records go back to much earlier days than those in other centres and hence the time required to make a search is longer.

The offices in other portions of the province are doing satisfactory work also. In Vancouver some thirty titles per day are being passed upon.

E. J. HAUGHTON GIVEN CHARGE OF WIRELESS

Well Known Local Telegrapher Appointed to the Victoria Station
by Government

E. J. Haughton, who for seventeen years has been connected with the C.
P. R. telegraph office in this city, was yesterday appointed to the superintendence of the Victoria wireless telegraph station established by the Dominion government at Shotbolt's hill.
Mr. Haughton commenced service with the C. P. R. Telegraph Company as a messenger, and from step to step progressed until he became one of the most valued operators of the local company, and also had charge of the government wire which enters the local office from the west coast of Vancouver Island. While Mr. Haughton naturally regrets leaving his old associations, where he will be missed,
his appointment is considered a cause
for congratulation.

Mr. Haughton, with his wife and family, will take up his residence at the telegraph station at Shotbolt's hill,
where a house has just been completed. The new station, which will be one of the best equipped and most complete on this coast, was established under the direction of Mr. Morse, who will also instruct the officials placed in charge of the different stations. It is the intention to maintain a constant service, and the official in charge will have two assistants, the work being divided into eight hour watches. The house built for the officer in charge and the two assistants is most comfortable and is thoroughly modern.

Will Be Only Thirty-five Million Miles
Away by November 8th

Next

Another comet is approaching the earth, and according to local astronomers it will come as close as thirty-five millions of miles, November 8
being the date of its closest approach to the earth. It will be visible to the naked eye in the early part of the evening of that date. The celestial visitor is known as the Mellish comet
in honor of a young astronomer named Mellish of Wisconsin, who discovered it in September 1st.

The comet is rapidly approaching the earth. This approach will continue until about November 8-9, when its distance from the earth will be about 35,000,000 miles. October 19 its distance was about 70,000,000 miles. The perihelion distance September 16 was about 92,000,000 miles. On November the comet's distance from the sun will be about 120,000,000 miles. At the time of discovery the comet was visible in an opera glass. On November its apparent brightness will be more than three times that of a distant star, and it should then be just visible to the naked eye. Owing to the comet's close approach to the earth, its orbital motion will increase rapidly.
In 20 days from October 19 to November 8, it will sweep across the sky
from a point about 16 degrees southeast of the star Procyon to a point about 8 degrees east of Aldebaran.

An important meeting of the general committee will be held this evening in the Y. M. C. A. board room,
when Messrs. Crossley and Hunter will meet the committee and will discuss the details of the campaign. The programme for the coming week is
as follows:

CLEAR BOULEVARD AT POINT GREY

Plan Received From Landscape
Gardener and Some Work
Authorized

The provincial government is in receipt of a plan for the subdivision and beautification of its lands at Point Grey from the landscape gardener, engaged Mr. Todd of Montreal.

The decision has been made to clear one of the boulevards shown on the plan submitted, which runs from the western boundary of district lot 540
to the extreme limit of Point Grey so that everything will be in shape to complete negotiations with some street car company to put their line on this boulevard. In this way access will be given not only to the portion of the land sold, but also to the present holdings
of the government.

The plan submitted by Mr. Todd for the approval of the government is a very fine one. He has taken several blocks of land, and reserved them for parks, and he has everywhere given full consideration to the topographical conditions in laying out streets and in making them most accessible to the surrounding property. Mr. Todd points out that this is one of the finest pieces of land so far as natural advantages are to be considered that could be found, and very easy to lay out to good advantage.

The government have taken the plan
to consideration and it is probable that when it has been passed upon by the government engineer it will be accepted. It is calculated to greatly increase the value of the government lands, and will prove of immense advantage to the city of Vancouver.

The boulevard should not be confused with the Point Grey road, which the government now has under construction.

CABLE CASE IS AGAIN DELAYED

Mr. Justice Martin Refuses to Hear Application for Mandamus

An effort to secure a mandamus to compel Magistrate Jay to hear the case of Peter Cable in his claim for wages against the steamship Socota was blocked yesterday because a Supreme court judge could not be located who had jurisdiction to consider the application. Inadvertently the confusion of the local legal fraternity resulting from the differences of opinion among the Supreme court judges was involved.

R. C. Lowe, of the firm of Moresby
O'Reilly, made an application yesterday morning to Mr. Justice Martin for the mandamus, but the latter held that his written instructions from Chief Justice Hunter, "I hereby appoint you to sit in chambers in Victoria," did not cover court motion and court work, and refused to hear the application.

Mr. Lowe thereupon wired the circumstances to the Chief Justice at Vancouver, and Mr. Justice Martin received the reply, "I hereby appoint you to take all work as a court judge" from Chief Justice Hunter.

Mr. Lowe showed the reply to Mr.
Justice Martin, but that did not affect the situation in the least. Mr. Justice
Martin holding to his previous opinion.
Consequently the application for a mandamus will have to stand over until a Supreme court judge can be located here who will hear it, which may be some time, as Mr. Justice Martin is the only Supreme court judge available just now.

anxious to get away from Victoria,
but has not yet found a place to go.

Discuss the Plans for the Approaching Revival

The service last night in the Congregational church preliminary to the revival services to be conducted by Crossley and Hunter in this city next week, was in charge of Rev. W. Leslie Clay. The attendance was large. The noon prayer meeting in the Y. M. C. A.
rooms proved successful, many turning out.

An important meeting of the general committee will be held this evening in the Y. M. C. A. board room,
when Messrs. Crossley and Hunter will
meet the committee and will discuss
the details of the campaign. The
programme for the coming week is

In Woman's Realm

In devoting more space than formerly to the affairs of women, the Colonist is taking a step which it is hoped our lady friends will appreciate. Any communication from them of general interest will be welcome and carefully attended to.

HERE AND THERE

The attention of the whole world has been turned, by the recent trials of great financiers in the United States, and by the speeches of President Roosevelt to the subject of honesty. It is stated by those who are in a position to know that the want of integrity in commercial and political life is not uncommon in Canada and that the people of our own province are not free from reproach. If this is true, if the old fashioned standard which bids men be true and just in all their dealing, has in the least lowered the women of our country cannot be free from blame. It is hard to believe that if children learned in their own homes and in the schools that truth and honesty were the very foundations of manliness they would readily enter upon a course of life where these qualities were a hindrance.

In the Woman's Home Companion Anna Steeves Richardson has been writing a series of articles on the influence of The Business Woman on the Home Life. After a long series of observations Mrs. Richardson has come to the conclusion that it is not good either for the woman or the home that she should be forced into the hurry and competition of the business world. Her articles are interesting and suggestive and if true represent a state of society which is a sad feature of modern life.

A gentleman, the other day, when asked whether he would stand for reelection to a civic office replied, "I must see what my wife says about it" leaving the questioner to infer that his wife would object to the proposal.

The remark throws a light on the self-denial a public-spirited man must exercise when he takes time from his private concerns or his business to devote to public affairs. Most men spend the day in offices or at other places of business. Amidst the strain and worry that a business life involves the evening is the only time they have for rest or for social enjoyment. As things are now conducted, a school trustee, an alderman or a mayor must if he does his duty sacrifice many of his evenings and devote much of his time to the public service. For this he gets little or no compensation in money and is often subject to criticism, sometimes unjust and always annoying. And yet these offices are very important and if they are not filled by men of ability and public spirit will be occupied by those who seek them from motives of vanity or self-interest. The city should be governed and the schools managed by her very best men. Any wife whose husband is a man of character, energy and talent should be proud when his fellow citizens place him in a position of trust and responsibility.

There is on the statute book a law against selling tobacco to children. No one who goes about the streets of Victoria can help seeing that this law is broken every hour of every day. Reputable tobacco dealers and most men in charge of grocery stores are very careful to observe this law. Children cannot get tobacco from them even when it is quite well known that it is intended for the use of an adult. Who sells the children the tobacco and cigarettes which they use to their great injury? Whose business is it to find this out. If the authorities whose duty it is to enforce the law should be so amended as to give them that power. The very fact that the little fellows who go about the streets smoking can do so with impunity is giving them a contempt for the law which is worse for them than the habit of using tobacco—bad as that is. In this connection it might be well for parents to consider whether it is wise to let children of tender years work for the sake of obtaining money to spend for their own purposes. When it is necessary that a boy earn money to buy his clothing, to pay his board or assist parents who for any reason need his earnings he is likely rather to be benefited than injured by the work he does. But when a child works a few hours in order that he may obtain the means to gratify his self-indulgence, no matter how apparently an innocent form that takes, his character is likely to suffer.

Such children are not learning either to work well or spend wisely.

WOMAN'S WORK

The second concert of the Ladies' Musical Club will take place this afternoon at 3:30 p.m. in the lecture room of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church. The programme will be devoted to the rendering of the compositions of Schubert and Chopin. As contemporaries it is most natural that their works should be thus associated: Schubert, who has been called the prince of elegists, and Chopin the most romantic of pianoforte writers. Schubert's songs to which he owes his place in history are divided into several classes. The Sea is the finest exponent of the group known as Songs of Passion. Of the Songs of Meditation the Wanderer surpasses all.

The imitations of Schubert are seldom given. The Impromptu Elegie is of special interest. Its resemblance to the Songs Without Words by Mendelssohn is very remarkable, and the admirers of Schubert claim for him that he was not only the first to create music adapted to express all the emotions portrayed by the words of a poem, but that he was also the real originator of the Songs Without Words and that Mendelssohn got the idea of his Song Without Words from him.

The two numbers by Chopin are marked examples of the master's patriotic genius and unequalled art in his life work of writing for the pianoforte. The following is the programme to be rendered this afternoon: Song, The Wanderer, Schubert, Mrs. Harry Pooley; impromptu, Elegie.

Schubert, Mrs. MacLure; song, (a) The Linden Tree, (b) The Wanderer's Night Song, Mrs. Gideon Hicks; impromptu, op. 36, Chopin, Miss Helen Peters, L. R. A. M.; song, (a) The Sea, (b) The Inquirer, (c) Impatience, Schubert, Mr. Charles Bethune; Rondo For Two Pianos, Chopin; Miss Ruby Peters and Mr. Bantly.

There was a large attendance at the parlor meeting of the W. C. T. U. at the home of Mrs. Scholecroft on Thursday. The attention of the ladies was so fully occupied with the discussion of matters of local concern that the report of the proceedings of the Winnipeg convention by the provincial president was deferred to a future meeting.

The men's concert at the W. C. T. U. Mission hall, tomorrow evening, will be in charge of the congregation of the Central Baptist church.

WEDDING ANNOUNCEMENTS

Ball-Whittington

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Whittington, Stanley avenue, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Thursday night, when their youngest daughter, Miss Ethel Whittington, was married to Mr. Charles Ball, of Rocky Point. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. K. Adams.

The bride wore a beautiful dress of white organdy, and her sister and bridesmaid, Miss Nellie Whittington, was dressed in point d'esprit. The brother of the groom, Mr. George Ball, acted as best man.

The rooms were beautifully decorated with ferns and smilax and the wedding took place under a bell tastefully formed of chrysanthemums.

After a bountiful supper, the young people drove to their home in Rocky Point, followed by the good wishes of the assembled party.

The young people received a large number of valuable presents.

TO COOK POTATOES

Perhaps no other vegetable is as deliciously cooked, as a rule, as the potato. It is a sturdy food that contains enough moisture in its composition to cool the starch. This moisture is in the form of a watery juice in which is dissolved the nitrogenous matter, the various salts, sugar, gum, etc. In cooking, the nitrogenous juice is coagulated in part at least by the heat, the starch granules swell and burst, and the starch absorbs the watery part of the juice. When this stage is reached, if the moisture has been in the right proportion, all parts of the potato will present a light, dry, glistening appearance, and will be quite digestible. However, the moisture is not always in the right proportion. Ripe potatoes, grown on a well-drained or sandy soil will, as a rule, be dry and mealy, if properly cooked. In heavy, damp soil, or in a wet season, they will likely contain too large a proportion of moisture for the starch. Old potatoes that are allowed to sprout will be watery, probably owing to the withdrawal of some of the starch for food for the growing sprouts. Potatoes intended for the table should not be allowed to sprout. Potatoes cooked in dry heat, as by baking in the oven or steaming in their jackets, retain all their salts and other constituents, and the flavor is more pronounced and savory than when cooked in water. But potatoes so cooked must be served just as soon as they are done, else they will become soggy and bad-flavored. Very old potatoes are better for being soaked in cold water and peeled before cooking.

Clean thoroughly and cut a bit of skin off each end, or peel outright, as you choose. Put on the fire in a large steamer; cover generously with boiling water; boil fifteen minutes; then add one tablespoonful salt for every dozen potatoes. When tender, drain off every drop of water, and let all the steam pass off. Boiled potatoes may be kept warm for an hour or more without injury, if well ventilated so that they dry rather than retain moisture. Place on the range on an iron ring, and cover with one thickness of cheese cloth.

Steamed Potatoes

Put in steamer, and keep the water boiling hard. About thirty or forty minutes will be required.

Baked Potatoes

Select smooth well-formed potatoes. Clean potato and let drain. Put in a baking pan—do not crowd—and put in a hot oven. Serve as soon as done—forty to sixty minutes, according to size of potatoes. If they have to be kept waiting for any time, break them to let the steam escape, and keep in a warm oven, or covered with cheese cloth in a steamer.

Escaloped Potatoes

Season one and one-half pints cold potatoes, cut in cubes, with salt and pepper. Mix with one pint cream sauce. Cover with grated bread crumbs; dot with butter, and bake half an hour in a moderate oven.

IN THE PUBLIC EYE

The queen of Holland discourages gunning so far as she is able. She is an ardent lover of all animals.

Frau Brigitte Berg Nielson, of Denmark, has been appointed state inspector of cookery schools, a newly-created office with a salary of 10,000 kroner.

Mrs. Marot, secretary of the woman's trade union league, in an address before the commercial telegraphers' union in New York, urged the women to organize in every branch of industry and that women stenographers and typewriters co-operate with the league in trade union agitation. Only so can women compete with men in the trades on equal terms.

Mrs. Marie Corelli has been staying in the Highlands, and was present at one of the balls connected with the northern meeting at Inverness. Almost every shooting lodge and large house in the district was represented and many beautiful dresses were worn. Miss Marie Corelli's gown was of white chiffon. She had a white ribbon in her hair and a bunch of purple heather at her breast. The brilliant scene seemed to interest her greatly.

NORTHWESTERN AFTER PORTLAND

Actions of Magnates Indicate Fight on Pacific Coast League

Spokane, Oct. 25.—What is the significance of the pilgrimage of the Northwestern league magnates to New York to attend the meeting of the National Association of Minor Baseball Leagues to be held there next Tuesday? Why is it that the Northwestern league, a six-city affair, located 3,000 miles from the meeting place, should be represented by six delegates? Undoubtedly there is some thing of vital importance to this league in the air.

When Eddie Quinn, manager of the Spokane club, without previously heralding his intentions, left here yesterday, explaining that he was bound for New York, things looked mysterious. Before leaving Quinn explained that Bob Brown, manager of the Aberdeen club, would join him and accompany him to New York. A day before George Shreder, of the Tacoma club, and Russ Hall, owner of the Butte franchise, passed through this city on their way East. President W. H. Lucas and Manager D. E. Dugdale of the Seattle club had left for the East last Monday. Every manager of a team in the Northwestern league is now on his way East with the exception of Bill Hurley of Vancouver. From all appearances Vancouver is out of the league and, consequently, not interested in what may happen in New York.

"Just going back to get acquainted with some of the big 'guns' and look for players." This has been the explanation of all the magnates. At first it did not excite more than casual comment. Now it has aroused suspicion. It does not seem likely that club owners are spending from $400 to $600 "just to get acquainted." Nor are they taking the trip across the continent solely for pleasure.

Putting two and two together to make four, Northwestern league fans who retain interest in baseball affairs after the close of the season, have reached the following conclusion: That the Northwestern league is going to unite forces with the Eastern league and the American association to fight the Pacific Coast league, the Western and Southern leagues.

Following this theory, it is believed that the Northwestern league will not support the American association and the Eastern league in their move to have class AA division made, but, instead, will attempt to have the Central and Southern leagues reduced to class B. The American association and Eastern leagues are the only two organizations of the five now denominated class A, which are entitled to that classification on the basis of population. The Northwestern league magnates say: "Let the American association and the Eastern league remain in the class A class, but put the other three in class B." Then the two first named leagues can draft from the other three. This is their only reason for wanting the class AA division made. If their object is accomplished, they will not be particular about the manner in which it is achieved.

To be entitled to the class A ranking a league must have a population of 1,000,000. The Coast league, with its four towns falls short of this by about 400,000. The Western league has not more than a total population of 500,000. It is obvious that neither deserves the rights and immunities of a class A league.

The motive for the stand taken by the Northwestern league magnates in this fight, should it prove to be as surmised above, is clear. The Northwestern league wants Portland. Portland belongs in the Northwestern league by its geographical location. But Judge McCredie, owner of the Portland franchise, does not want to leave class A league to become a member of

The team which will represent Victoria against the Hornet Rugby Club or Nanaimo at the coal town tomorrow was selected yesterday by a committee representing the James Bay A. and the Victoria Rugby Club. It is a light team, but fast, and should be able to take care of itself against the heavier Nanaimo men. Secretary Sweeney is none too confident of victory, however, as a number of the best players who would otherwise be available are unable to get away for the game. The team will leave this afternoon at 3 o'clock. The game will take place early tomorrow afternoon, and the team will catch the afternoon train home.

The players are as follows: Full back, Arbuckle; three-quarters, Anderson, Thompson, Winch and Spalding; half backs, W. Sweeney and White; forwards, Miller, L. Sweeney, Stewart, Blackbourne, Shanks, Cox, Bendroit and another; spare men, Morrison, Marcon and Rome.

The Nanaimo team is said to be stronger than ever before only a few of last year's players are on the line-up announced for tomorrow, their places having been taken by newcomers from the old country, who are said to be adepts at the game. Under the circumstances the Victoria team will be rather lucky to return a winner.

Schools Football League

South Park will meet North Ward at Oak Bay this morning in the schools football league. At Beacon Hill the Central and High school teams will come together.

Colonist Hockey Cup

The first game in the series for the Colonist cup for Girl's school hockey team will take place today at Oak Bay, when High school and South Park will play.

ONLY TWO GAMES WILL BE PLAYED

Victoria Uniteds to Default to Y.M.C.A. This Afternoon

Though three games are on the card for this afternoon in the Victoria District Football League but two will be played as the Victoria Uniteds will default their game to the Y. M. C. A. at Oak Bay. The James Bay A. will play Esquimalt at Oak Bay at 2:30 o'clock and one of the best games of the season should ensue. At Work Point Barracks the Garrison and Fifth Regiments will clash again. The Garrison lost to the same team by 2 goals to 1 last Saturday but hope to reverse the result this time. The teams and officials for the day's games are as follows:

Victoria United vs. Y. M. C. A.

It is understood that the Uniteds will default but the Y. M. C. A. will have the following team on hand at Oak Bay at 2:30 o'clock prepared to play; as the Uniteds have not formally declared their intention of defaulting: Harper, Morrison, Ritchie, Dawson, Hill, Kerchen, Baylis, Wilson, Shelton, Morris and Johnston.

James Bay vs. Esquimalt.

Esquimalt—Goal, Brown; backs, Lockby and Prevost; half backs, O'Neill, Duffy and Telford; forwards, Martin, Young, Sheriff, Miller and Jasper; reserves, Dobble and Jamie.

Garrison vs. Fifth Regiment.

Garrison—Goal, Macdonald; backs, Sullivan, Warder; halves, Dunn, Bailey, Doyle; forwards, Roberson, Ingle, Jones, Recruit.

The Fifth Regiment team was not announced last night.

Referee—Percy Richardson.

This evening at 8 o'clock there will be a meeting of the league executive at the Y. M. C. A. when the senior schedule will be re-arranged and the junior and intermediate schedules compiled.

Career of Manager Chance.

Frank L. Chance, the great manager, captain and first baseman of the Chicago National League club, champion of the world, was originally a catcher and a right fielder. He was born in California and learned to play baseball while attending college. From 1892 to 1896 he attended Washington college, and the Dental college at San Francisco. He obtained the degree of doctor of dental science, and qualified to practice as such. He was playing with a local club at Fresno, where he was seen by Cal. McVey of the famous Cincinnati Red Stockings of 1869, and on his recommendation the Chicago club made Chance a liberal offer to join the team in 1898. When he came east he at once became the Chicago's mainstay behind the bat and remained so until four years ago when he was tried at first base and made such a success of it that he was retained in that position in which only Chase, Tenny and Donhoe are ranked as his equals. When Mr. Seelye was compelled by ill-health to relinquish the management of the Chicago club in 1905, Chance was appointed. He at once laid his lines to strengthen the team and it was at his suggestion that the deals were made which added Steinfeldt, Sheppard and Moran to his team and which won the baseball championship of the world.

The Nanaimo team is said to be stronger than ever before only a few of last year's players are on the line-up announced for tomorrow, their places having been taken by newcomers from the old country, who are said to be adepts at the game. Under the circumstances the Victoria team will be rather lucky to return a winner.

Schools Football League

Colonist Hockey Cup

The first game in the series for the Colonist cup for Girl's school hockey team will take place today at Oak Bay, when High school and South Park will play.

Secretary Sweeney is none too confident of victory, however, as a number of the best players who would otherwise be available are unable to get away for the game. The team will leave this afternoon at 3 o'clock. The game will take place early tomorrow afternoon, and the team will catch the afternoon train home.

The players are as follows: Full back, Arbuckle; three-quarters, Anderson, Thompson, Winch and Spalding; half backs, W. Sweeney and White; forwards, Miller, L. Sweeney, Stewart, Blackbourne, Shanks, Cox, Bendroit and another; spare men, Morrison, Marcon and Rome.

The Nanaimo team is said to be stronger than ever before only a few of last year's players are on the line-up announced for tomorrow, their places having been taken by newcomers from the old country, who are said to be adepts at the game. Under the circumstances the Victoria team will be rather lucky to return a winner.

English Runner Sprains His Ankle, However, and Loses Match Race

Winnipeg, Oct. 25.—An unfortunate accident which forced Alfred Shrubb, the English champion, to retire near the close of his 15-mile race with John Marsh, the Manitoba champion, tonight, permitted the latter to win an honor which he clearly was not entitled to. Shrubb's ankle gave out in the 13th mile when he was a lap ahead of Marsh, after having gained up a handicap of two minutes, which he conceded to the Manitoban. Notwithstanding the fact that he did not win this race Shrubb succeeded in breaking several Canadian records which he had previously established, covering five miles in 24 minutes, 45 seconds, and ten miles in 51 minutes, 18 seconds.

BASKETBALL MATCH ARRANGED

A basketball match has been arranged between the Y. M. C. A. and the Victoria West Athletic Association to take place at the Victoria West gymnasium next Tuesday night at 3 o'clock. The senior teams of both associations will compete, and the game should prove interesting. It will be the first senior game of the local season.

New Record For Longboat.

At the annual sports of Toronto university last week Tom Longboat, the great Indian runner, won the three-mile open in record time, negotiating the distance in 15:09, just 24 seconds better than the former Canadian record.

SCHOOL TEAM TO PLAY VANCOUVER

University Rugbyists Arrange Two Games For Next Week There

The university school rugby team will go to Vancouver for two games next week. A game has been arranged for next Thursday morning at Recreation park with Queen's school, and another for a week from today with the Vancouver High school.

The university school team played a drawn practice game with the local High school team on Thursday afternoon, the contest ending in a score of 10 all. Each team scored two tries. Spencer and Erb did the counting for the High school, and Winch and Brown for University school. The teams which played were practically the same that will compete in the city intermediate league along with the James Bays. They played good rugby, and should do better next time out, as it was their first game.

Lewiston, Id., Oct. 25.—William M. Cain, who holds a contract for Jockey McLain's services, has sued John P. Vellmer and the Lewiston-Clarkston Interstate Fair and Racing Association for damages as a result of the injuries sustained by McLain at the recent race meeting. Cain alleges that the boy's services are worth $12,000 per month. The accident was caused by Vellmer's dog running across the track in front of McLain's mount.

Victoria United vs. Y. M. C. A.

It is understood that the Uniteds will default but the Y. M. C. A. will have the following team on hand at Oak Bay at 2:30 o'clock prepared to play; as the Uniteds have not formally declared their intention of defaulting: Harper, Morrison, Ritchie, Dawson, Hill, Kerchen, Baylis, Wilson, Shelton, Morris and Johnston.

Career of Manager Chance.

Frank L. Chance, the great manager, captain and first baseman of the Chicago National League club, champion of the world, was originally a catcher and a right fielder. He was born in California and learned to play baseball while attending college. From 1892 to 1896 he attended Washington college, and the Dental college at San Francisco. He obtained the degree of doctor of dental science, and qualified to practice as such. He was playing with a local club at Fresno, where he was seen by Cal. McVey of the famous Cincinnati Red Stockings of 1869, and on his recommendation the Chicago club made Chance a liberal offer to join the team in 1898. When he came east he at once became the Chicago's mainstay behind the bat and remained so until four years ago when he was tried at first base and made such a success of it that he was retained in that position in which only Chase, Tenny and Donhoe are ranked as his equals. When Mr. Seelye was compelled by ill-health to relinquish the management of the Chicago club in 1905, Chance was appointed. He at once laid his lines to strengthen the team and it was at his suggestion that the deals were made which added Steinfeldt, Sheppard and Moran to his team and which won the baseball championship of the world.

The Nanaimo team is said to be stronger than ever before only a few of last year's players are on the line-up announced for tomorrow, their places having been taken by newcomers from the old country, who are said to be adepts at the game. ## SAILING SHIP WAS IN DANGER

Tug William Jolliffe Reports Speaking Lucipara Close to Pachena.

GOES TO ASSIST SALVOR

B. C. Salvage Company Sends Big Tug to Aid Wrecker at Vancouver

The big tug William Jolliffe, which is under charter to the marine department, but which has been withdrawn for a few days to assist the steamer Salvor in work at Vancouver, reached port yesterday morning from Ucluelet, after replacing the whistling buoy off Amphitrite point, the scene of the disaster of the British ship Pass of Melford, which was dashed against the rocky cliffs there and went down with all on board. The wreck lies within a short distance of the sheer rocks, and until a short time ago, portions of her spars were visible at low water. The hull is now badly broken.

When off Shelter bight, near Pachena point, last Tuesday, close to where the steamer Valencia drove ashore, the British four-masted bark Luctuaria, which reached Seattle on Thursday from San Diego, was seen within two miles of the shore during the fog. There was no dead calm, and the vessel's sails were flapping up and down. A set of current toward shore was drifting the vessel shoreward, and, thinking assistance might be required, the William Jolliffe was heading toward the sailing craft.

Capt. Stratford hauled the sailing ship after running to within about a hundred feet, asking if any assistance was required.

No reply whatever was received, although there were men on the vessel's decks and despite the fact that the trees could be seen close at hand above the fog.

The William Jolliffe then continued on her way and on arrival at Bamfield creek reported the incident. A telegram from Pachena point stated that on Wednesday morning the offshore wind had carried the vessel out of danger.

Any assistance given to the sailing vessel would not have cost him anything as the William Jolliffe was then in the capacity of a government vessel, instead of a salvage craft; but the sailing ship's officers apparently were taking no chance in the matter of payment.

After replacing the buoy at Amphitrite the William Jolliffe took the old one in tow and brought it to Victoria where the barbecues will be scraped off and the boat cleaned and painted ready to resume service. A telegram was sent ordering the steamer to Victoria at full speed and she came at the rate of 13½ knots, reaching Victoria yesterday morning. After mooring the buoy off the government wharf she proceeded at once to Vancouver to assist the steamer Salvor, which has been engaged in repairing and raising the steamer Tartar and in raising the R. M. S. Empress of China.

A NARROW ESCAPE

British Ship Port Patrick Almost On Oregon Coast

The combined prompt action of the United States weather bureau service, the Merchants' Exchange and the Oregon Railway & Navigation company on Thursday saved the British ship Port Patrick of Newcastle, Australia, bound for Portland with coal, from piling up on Clatsop Beach, near the wreck of the Peter Iredale, which went ashore last year. The weather bureau observer at Fort Canby notified Forester Beals in Portland of the vessel's predicament, and he in turn took up the matter with the Merchants' Exchange, which immediately got into communication with the tugboat department of the O. R. & N. The tug Wallaby was dispatched from Astoria, and succeeded in getting a line on board the Port Patrick a few minutes before she would have struck the beach.

QUADRA COMING

Government Steamer Reaches Lady Smith Yesterday and Arrives Here Today

The government steamer Quadra which left port some months ago to install two gas beacons at Prince Rupert, reached the steamer Yesterayesterday after a delayed trip from the north. She was sighted about two weeks ago on her way down by the tug William Jolliffe which took a harbor to Vancouver rock and after reaching it again passed the Quadra anchored at Safety cove, about forty miles away from where she was sighted when the tug was bound north. Then the Princess Royal, which arrived last Monday reported the steamer at Alert Bay. It is believed the steamer has been coming by slow stages owing to the recent fogs. The Quadra is expected to arrive here today.

The R. M. S. Empress of Ireland, of the C. P. R. Atlantic line arrived at Quebec yesterday morning from Liverpool.

$15 Starts You

If you want your money safely invested, there is no better place than Victoria. There is no city in Canada where property is as low, and it is bound to go up sooner or later. Its future is assured, and it will yet be the Los Angeles of Western Canada. It has the situation—scenery in riotous profusion, and the most delightful climate in Canada.

We do not ask you to invest money, except where we invest our own, and that of our relatives and personal friends. Do not expect to double your money in a day. At the prices and terms we are giving you, you can afford to wait, and if you do, you will be handsomely rewarded. Let us give you some facts about the lots we offer you:

1. They are between Fairfield Road and Dallas Road, close to Ross Bay.
2. The Street Railway is absolutely certain to pass them in the near future.
3. They are nice lying, large lots, with a superb outlook over the water.
4. The price is only $300 each.
5. The terms are within the reach of all—only $15 down, and balance $10 per month—nearly 2 1/2 years to pay.
6. These lots will look cheap at $600 long before they are paid for. We have only a limited number. Get on the ground floor.

There's No Such Thing As "Better"

If you are willing to pay a merchant tailor just double the price of "Progress Brand," you might get a suit that might be as good as "Progress Brand."

But pray! why should you pay two prices for one suit?

You can't buy better tailoring—or better wearing fabrics—or better styles—or better fitting garments,—at any price.

When it comes right down to essentials—the vital points of fine workmanship and worthy cloths—you will find "Progress Brand" is matchless at its price.

New styles—handsomest patterns and most exclusive effects—are ready.

"Progress Brand"
Suits and Overcoats

If you want to see what Canada's well dressed men are wearing, see the fashions as interpreted by "Progress Brand."
